The Next Step... Advance the Society

State organizations can begin to update their bylaws and standing rules and submit them to the Constitution Committee for review and assistance.

This quote from the Jan/Feb 2011 DKG News conveys what the Texas Executive Committee was considering last fall when it directed the state president to request International Parliamentarian Jean Gray to analyze Texas State Organization documents: bylaws, online Official Manual, and a reformatted document from the Special Committee to Revise the Official Manual.

Gray completed an analysis of the documents. She

- 1) Compared Bylaws (article by article) and statements from the Official Manual with content required by the Constitution, International Standing Rules and Robert's Rules of Order Newly Revised (RONR).
- 2) Pointed out statements from the Official Manual that might be standing rules.
- 3) Identified content more appropriate for instructional purposes or "how to documents"

The Texas Executive Committee concluded that

- 1) Texas State Organization governing documents should be identified as state bylaws and standing rules in concordance with the Constitution/ International Standing Rules and RONR.
- 2) Governing rules of Texas State Organization can only be passed by the general assembly at state convention.
- 3) Instructional statements and advice for carrying out tasks including "how to documents" that provide leadership training/support, continuity between biennia, and historical documentation, MAY detail procedures but are NOT governing documents.
- 4) The many recent changes at the international level as well as a multitude of changes throughout time at the state level, necessitate bringing the state documents in order and making them congruent with the 2010 Constitution/International Standing Rules and parliamentary law.
- 5) Action by the 2011 state convention in McAllen is needed to permit the revision of state governing documents.

So, what is the next step? It's not a baby one!

The responsibility to bring the documents in line begins with the state Constitution/Bylaws Committee. According to RONR, when changes are so extensive and general that they are scattered throughout the bylaws, the substitution of an entirely new set of bylaws, called a revision is required.

Two motions will enable Texas State Organization to undertake this critical project. (1) One requires members present and voting at convention to approve the project. (2) A second establishes a special committee to study the present governing rules and Texas State Organization practices and projected needs; and to recommend to the general assembly proposed revisions for consideration and adoption.

There were many changes to the 2010 international documents. There will be many changes to the state bylaws/rules. Fewer changes are anticipated for chapters. An opportunity to discuss these proposed motions will be provided at the state convention prior to the business meeting. Let's take the next step to advance in McAllen, June25!

Betty's Buzz

from Headquarters

By Betty Vines, Exec. Sec./Treas.

The Texas State Organization Headquarters Building is a showcase for our Texas organization as well as a busy workplace. Committees, chapters, and coordinating councils have enjoyed having a place to meet. Visitors continue to come. The business operations of the organization keep the place buzzing.

Texas continues to have wonderful chapter treasurers! You are commended for being so positive, cooperative and supportive. New and experienced treasurers accepted the challenge of collecting and reporting the dues this fall. Your hard work is greatly appreciated.

April 1 is a very important date, so mark your calendar. Keep it in mind when your chapter initiates new members this spring. If the initiation is before April 1, the initiate must pay 2010-11 dues ($52), scholarship ($1 or $.40), and the initiation fee ($5), all of which is sent to the TSO Headquarters in Dallas. If initiated after April 1, only the $5 initiation fee is sent to Headquarters. Make it a priority to send the money and the yellow initiate card immediately after the initiation. The information included on the card is the means by which the new member is entered into the Society data base; thus receives all of the Society communications. The same is true for reinstatement of members except the card is green! There is no reinstatement fee. Both the initiate card and the reinstatement card can be downloaded from the International website. A Form 18 should also accompany the card(s) and the payment.

April 1 is also the deadline for contributions in order to be recognized at convention. Contributions are certainly welcome at any time!

Spring is a great time to recognize 25 and 50-year members. Certificates are available from the TSO office. E-mail or call, and they will be mailed to you. The cost is $2 for the 25-year and $4 for the 50-year certificate.

Last, but certainly not least, have you filed your chapter's 990-N and sent a copy of the e-card receipt to Headquarters? Maintain a file of your receipts and filing information. Although we were told in the beginning that chapters would have to file for three years, the IRS is now requiring that it be done every year.

Plans are being made for a great workshop in McAllen. See you there!

ASTEFL Update

By Jean Webb, ASTEF Chairman

At the 2010 state convention, the voting body charged President Vicki Davis with the task of appointing a special committee to investigate the possibility and then plan for the development of a non-profit organization to be known as Alpha State Texas Educational Foundation (ASTEFL).

The committee began their task by attending a workshop for Educational Foundations, consulting an attorney who specializes in educational foundations and meeting with executive directors of nonprofit organizations.

They learned that for a non-profit educational foundation there were specific steps to be taken and approval gained at each step.

With this realization the committee asked the TSO Executive Committee's approval to move forward in a timely manner. If the committee was not active during 2010-2011, the report to TSO members at the 2011 convention would just be a To Do List. Inaction would mean that ASTEF would be a year behind in the process of becoming a reality.

Following advice received from professionals, the following steps have been completed:

- Developed Mission Statement
The purpose of the Alpha State Texas Educational Foundation (ASTEFL) is to provide funding for activities that support professional and personal growth of women educators in Texas and promote educational excellence for Texas students.
- Obtained EIN (Employer Identification Number)
- Filed for Certificate of Formation for Nonprofit Corporation in State of Texas
- Received Texas Certificate of Formation for Nonprofit Corporation from the Secretary of State of Texas
- Wrote ASTEF Bylaws which were reviewed by an attorney specializing in educational foundation law
- Submitted IRS Form 1023, Application for 501(c)(3) status, after the application was reviewed by attorney.

At their own expense the ASTEF Committee has attended an Educational Foundation workshop in Houston, met in Austin for a retreat to write bylaws, and met at TSO Headquarters to work on the IRS application. Many hours have been spent

Fulbright Teacher Exchange Revitalizes Participant

By Genia Klein, Xi (7-Pflugerville)

Several years ago, I was involved in a National Science Teachers Association funded study investigating teacher retention. I had 16 years of education under my belt, and frankly, I was not feeling like I could do too many more years. I was burned out. The primary investigator after interviewing me for the third and final time answered my desperate question about how teachers stayed or worked through burn out. According to everything that she had accumulated through many interviews, teachers at about 16-20 years of service were subject to burn out and many left the teaching field at that time. Those who didn't found a way to revitalize their teaching. I was all for that, but just how does one DO that? Well, for me, I taught in Scotland for a semester on a Fulbright Teacher Exchange.

Applying for a Fulbright Teacher Exchange is not an unusually tiresome process. It pretty much works like any other grant. You send your application, a resumé, references; answer some questions that explain why you would like to teach in another country and at the same time try to convince the readers and interviewers that you would do well. The application deadline is usually in October. There is another task you are asked to do in January. That is to set up a support system for the incoming teacher. This support system will help the teacher both during school hours and after duty and weekends.

In March 2009, a thick packet was sent to my principal, Lorraine (my Scottish counterpart), her headteacher and me. It was the proposed exchange and the first inkling I had that the exchange was even a possibility. It was both exciting and terrifying. My principal wished to interview Lorraine before she made a commitment and so they arranged a time to talk on the telephone. I crossed my fingers that this stranger would impress my administrators enough to agree to the exchange. We had ten days to agree to the exchange. There was a chance that another spot could be found if this exchange did not suit us, but that was not very likely.

Gold Piece

In May, my principal and I flew to Chicago to meet with other U.S. teachers, who would be going abroad, and their administrators. For me, it was a time to learn what needed to be done in order to live in another country. My principal learned how she could best support the new teacher and still maintain the continuity of learning that she expected for the students in her school. Most exchanges are for a year, but Lorraine was a newlywed and her husband would be coming along on the exchange with her. His business was quite happy to give him a leave of absence for six months so our exchange was rather unusual in that it was only a half of a year. Despite this, everything worked out well, and July found each of us tidying up our houses, talking to neighbors and friends about the people coming in, and writing directions on how to use everything like the stove, washer, dryer etc.

In August, Lorraine and I (and the other 30 exchange teachers and their partners) met in Washington DC. It was like meeting a friend for the first time since there were many emails and "Skype" calls that had gone back and forth as we got to know one another. I was concerned that they might melt in the heat of Washington DC. I worried how they would do when they got to Texas with its triple-digit temperatures!

So many things still remain in my head that I would like to share with you, but I would like to end with two final thoughts. My time in Scotland did so much for me as a teacher (and as a person) that I could easily teach another 20 years just on what I learned and lived for those all too brief six months. And finally, if you are thinking that this might be something for you and your family, DO IT! Teaching abroad is an amazing experience that will bring out a "you" that you never knew existed.

Genia Klein is currently a second grade teacher at Windermere Primary School in Pflugerville. She has taught over 20 years and currently serves as second vice president of her chapter.

Research Group Updates Web Site Information

By Katherine Reid, Research Chairman

It has been the pleasure of our Research Committee to showcase our outstanding Texas members these past two years by researching information and compiling several documents which highlight the accomplishments of our members.

Please check our TSO Web site to find these resources that have been added or updated by the Research committee. These include the state author's listing (active and honorary members,) buildings and facilities named for state DKG members (active and honorary,) and a listing of our state honorary members and their personal bios (to be completed this spring 2011.) The information is interesting and useful and can be shared in chapter meetings and programs.

The expansion of our state Web site resources will continue to enlighten our members for years to come.

A Cruise? Survey Results

The Headquarters Committee sponsored a fundraising cruise survey in the Fall 2010 Lone Star Newsette which was posted on the Texas website. Members were asked to share their cruise preferences by completing a survey and submitting it via email. Thank you to the approximately 110 members who responded. The results are in and here are your preferences:

Time of Year Spring Break-38; Not Spring Break-20; Summer-60; Fall-26

Destinations Western Caribbean-52; Mexico-17; Hawaii-46; Eastern Caribbean-50

Cabin Inside-26; Oceanview-63; Balcony-37

Length of Cruise 4 Days-32; 5 Days-59; 7 Days-39

The fundraising cruise information will be given to the ASTEF Committee to use in future planning of a possible cruise, pending approval of ASTEF by the general assembly at the 2011 state convention.

What do we need to do now? Start saving our money, so when the cruise is scheduled we will be ready to go. See you on the ship.

Chairman Explains Membership Issues

By Sandra Bull, Membership Chairman

Chapters in Texas will be very happy to learn that there is a brand new Orientation Program available for all of those spring initiates that members are busy inviting! The Orientation is available as a PowerPoint presentation and, for chapters without that technology, a print version. Both formats are posted on the International and Texas Web sites. Soon to follow will be a new Reorientation Program. Both programs follow a new perspective of orienting prospective members to the Society. Prospective members need to have a clear understanding of the benefits and also the responsibilities of membership so that their decision to join is based on a firm foundation of understanding.

The Membership Q&A in the Jan/Feb 2011 DKG NEWS seemed to create a bit of concern with some of our members! In case you didn't see it: Question – A dear friend taught for four years while completing her certification as a lawyer. She has spent the last 22 years, serving as a defender in family court. Is she now eligible for invitation to membership? Answer – Potential members come from two groups (1) Women presently contracted as professional educators; (2) Women who are retired professional educators. Women who are not presently employed as professional educators or who left the profession before retirement are not eligible.

Perhaps more explanation would help. Our rules do not define retirement with any type of qualifier such as a number of years worked. But there is an understanding that retirement occurs after a woman has devoted a significant amount of time to the profession and leaves with some type of pension or annuity. In the question posed above, the woman in question did not work the significant amount of time as an educator to be a candidate for active membership but she certainly has made a contribution to children and families and might well be a candidate for honorary membership.

Another issue that is bothersome to some is the new rule that an employed professional educator is eligible for active membership even in the first year of employment. Members ask if their own chapter rules can indicate that an educator must have been employed for a certain number of years before being a member of chapter. The DKG Constitution states that each chapter shall have chapter rules which are consistent with the Constitution and its state organization bylaws. One way to look at it is a member selected by one chapter is a member of the Society and is therefore eligible to transfer or reinstate to any chapter. If a first year teacher is initiated in Chapter A, she should be able to transfer to Chapter B which is awkward if Chapter B has imposed membership restrictions on itself that other chapters do not have. We are suggesting that every candidate for membership be looked at individually. Some chapters have sponsored candidates for the teaching profession through early grants and other types of support during internships. These chapters can feel very confident about the candidate's potential for future teaching success and will be in a position to mentor her through those difficult first years. This is a very positive way for chapters to continue to grow and also to combat one of the most crucial issues that face education today: the loss of early career educators!

Wordles Are Fun

By Shirley Owens, Technology Chairman

Have you discovered wordles?

Wordle.net is a Web site for creating "word clouds." This is a great classroom tool that I've written about before. To the right is a demonstration of a word cloud created in Photoshop. Clearly, this one is about the convention in McAllen.

I decided that I wanted the butterfly in the background, but couldn't do it with wordle.net. This is how the ad is created:

The butterfly image is from Microsoft's Clip Art Gallery. The Gallery has thousands of images that are free. If you need an image, you can probably find one there. I selected the butterfly, saved it to my desktop as a jpeg image.

In Photoshop, I opened the butterfly jpeg image, then added the text to the graphic, one word at a time.

Each word was sized, positioned and rotated as I decided to weight the word. Some are smaller. Some are lighter. The sizes and color in wordle.net are based on the number of times the word is used in the document. I chose the size and color based on what I wanted to call to the reader's attention.

In the classroom, use wordle.net to generate random word clouds for favorite quotations, paragraphs from reading assignments, vocabulary lessons or art projects. It's a fun tool.

Hundreds for Headquarters Campaign Deadline Nears

By Jeanie Stiles, Headquarters Chairman

Relief...elation...accomplishment! These are feelings you might have when your home mortgage is paid. As members, we are ALL a part of headquarters and will share these same feelings WHEN our loan is repaid.

Alpha State borrowed money from the Scholarship Fund six years ago to purchase the new Texas State Organization headquarters building. The Hundreds for Headquarters campaign began in 2006 with the goal of each chapter contributing $100 per year for five years to HELP finance the purchase. This is the last year of the Hundreds for Headquarters campaign to HELP repay the loan and the campaign ends April 1, 2011. 141 chapters out of 284 in the Texas State Organization have met the $500 campaign challenge as of January 4, 2011. The deadline is getting closer. Don't miss the chance to be recognized in McAllen and have your chapter's name listed as a chapter that "met the challenge" by donating $500 to the Hundreds for Headquarters campaign.

Check out the Texas website for Hundreds for Headquarters information. Click on the big red checkmark on the home page for a list of chapters that have completed the Hundreds for Headquarters campaign challenge. This list will be updated monthly. There is also a countdown clock that tells you how much longer you have until the April 1 deadline. The clock is ticking...send your donations in now.

At the state convention in McAllen, the Headquarters Committee plans to report to the Texas State Organization members the amount of money that was collected from the Hundreds for Headquarters campaign as a PARTIAL repayment to the loan from the Scholarship Fund. We urge all chapters to "do your best" to meet this challenge.

CONGRATULATIONS to the 11 chapters whose names have recently been added to the list of chapters completing the Hundreds for Headquarters campaign challenge!

Share Programs/Projects "Annie" Award Apps Due

By Pat Osborne, POW Chairman

As chapters across the state embark on planning yearly programs, they have focused on quality programs to promote the purposes of the Society. They have taken a Wellness Check of their own chapter, researched needs, sought professional speakers and created engaging projects to serve the needs of individual communities. Members of Delta Kappa Gamma know it is not enough to improve their own personal and professional growth, but must also find a way to give back to the communities in which they reside.

Quality programs enhance our membership, engage our members in genuine fellowship, help each of us to learn new ways of conserving, improving and energizing our world and most importantly lead us to new and improved personal and professional goals.

Chapters are encouraged to submit one program or project for the "Annie" Award. They are asked to identify the one they felt best represented the goals of the society and had the greatest impact on the chapter or community. The official application can be found at www.alphastatetexas.org Along with the current application there is a document on the Program Committee link entitled Helpful Hints for Writing a Successful Annie Application. As a reminder, applying for the Annie Award is one of the criteria for PACE.

An additional resource is on the International website www.dkg.org On the website go to Library heading, click on Resources, scroll down the link to Program Ideas and then click on Programs and Projects with Purpose. Here is a collection of ideas taken from various chapters in the Society. Hopefully, these will give you some ideas.

Submissions must be sent to the Program of Work Chairman, Pat Osborne, 103 Redbud Crossing #419, Houston, TX 77077, postmarked by April 1, 2011. At the 82nd Texas State Convention in McAllen, the committee will recognize outstanding programs/projects with the Annie Award Certificate and Ribbon. Presidents will receive their certificate and ribbon in their packets. Presidents can wear their ribbons throughout the convention, inviting other members to ask about their outstanding program or project.

UP With Texas Treasure Boxes

By Lou Hitt, Personal Growth and Services

When packing for McAllen, be sure to leave room to bring a Texas Treasure Box.

“What is that?” you ask. A Texas Treasure Box is the second annual Unifying Project for Alpha State Texas. Research by the Personal Growth and Services Committee led to the adoption of boxes similar to the Jared Boxes that lift the spirits of chronically ill children throughout the United States.

The Jared Box project was started in 2001 by children in Pennsylvania to honor their friend, Jared, who was battling cancer. Since its inception, over 50,000 boxes have been delivered in 38 different states.

Texas Treasure Boxes will be delivered to hospitals in McAllen, Harlingen, Brownsville, and Corpus Christi. The boxes will provide a special diversion for young patients as they receive chemotherapy and other medical treatments. The boxes symbolize the importance of play and are not only filled with small gifts, but bushels of well wishes, hope and love.

Each plastic, shoe-sized box should be filled with small gifts, toys and games. Some suggested items include:

Under 2: bibs, rattles, soft books, teething rings, booties, pacifier, sippy cup or bottle.

Ages 2-4: dolls, Matchbox cars, Play-Doh, crayons, coloring book, bubbles, card games, soft balls, puppets, soft animals.

Ages 4-8: Silly putty, Play-Doh, paints, art supplies, bubbles, card games, puzzles, travel-size board games, cars, stickers, Nerf balls.

Ages 8-11: card games, paints, Silly putty, calculator, gel pens, yo-yo, craft kits, brainteasers, books, puzzles, small toys, Nerf balls, travel-size games

Ages 11 & up: electronic games, word search/crossword puzzles, books, playing cards, craft kits, journals, nail polish, stress balls.

All boxes should contain a book, since literacy is especially important. No food, used items or hair products should be included. They should be packed with items selected for a specific age and gender of child. There are children and families who speak Spanish as well as English, and the children are ages from infant to teen. For ease in delivery, label each box with the child's age, gender and language.

Members may participate in this project individually or as a chapter. Please bring them to the registration area of the 82nd State Convention in McAllen.

Educational Excellence Committee Explains Focus

By Dr. Helen Popovich, International Educational Excellence Committee Chairman

The room buzzed with excitement as the 15 members of the new Educational Excellence Committee met for the first time to build on the wisdom of the past as it charted its new course.

Focusing on the Society's mission and vision statements, the committee adopted a self-definition, which will be equally appropriate for state organization and chapter committees: "The Educational Excellence Committee promotes International projects, supports early-career educators, and encourages programs and activities that further educational excellence worldwide."

For the Society to have the greatest impact on education, chapters and state organizations need to focus on no more than two Society-wide initiatives. In addition, chapters and state organizations will benefit from resources for programs and activities that encourage educational excellence by addressing the professional and personal growth of women educators and the diverse interests of members.

To embrace our vision, "Leading Women Educators Impacting Education Worldwide," the Educational Excellence Committee urges every chapter and state organization throughout the Society to focus on two major initiatives:

- Support for the Society's official Schools for Africa project, and
- Support for early-career educators.

Information on these initiatives is readily available on the DKG website and in its publications. UNICEF will maintain records of DKG's support for the Schools for Africa project. Chapters, on the other hand, should maintain a record of the money and the number of hours members spend in support for early-career educators. Recognition for support of both initiatives will be showcased at the 2012 convention

To assist chapters, the Educational Excellence Committee will use the DKG Web site library, the DKGNetwork and Society publications to offer ideas for programs and activities that focus on educational excellence, promote the DKG/UN relationship, increase members' global awareness, impact educational law and policy, and increase members' personal and professional pride. Join the excitement! Unite with other Delta Kappa Gamma members as we become a global force in achieving educational excellence.
