Her Story: A Birthday Celebration – Eta

Members created a fun and expressive script around three of the founding members with information gathered at a local historical library which houses DKG memorabilia. The script included descriptions of their personalities, challenges, and other interesting details.

The Heart Beat Began 1929... Alpha Iota

Five “stations” explored the music of the era, Annie’s Moments, DKG/Founders Bingo, Letters of Appreciation, and Global Awareness. Members dressed in clothes of the area and ate food popular at that time.

Season’s Greetings World Fellowship – Epsilon Phi

Chapter members presented a program about the World Fellowship Committee. After the program members wrote holiday greetings to those studying in the United States.

Our “Big Sisters”: Civic Organizations and Their Value – Beta Tau

A local journalist spoke about the importance of organizations like DKG, the chapter founders, and the “Big Sisters. “Big Sisters” are members who are appointed by zip codes to offer rides to every chapter member who needs transportation to a meeting.

Getting to Know You and ASTEF – Nu

Chapter members and an ASTEF representative gave a program about ASTEF and the value of chapter contributions. The chapter’s ASTEF funded project provided books for the students of a local school. Members volunteered at the Book Fair and other student-centered activities.

What I Did This Summer – Theta Kappa

Chapter members submitted vacation and summer-activity pictures to the president, who assembled them into a PowerPoint, which was viewed at the first meeting. This gave members a fun opportunity to get to know each other.

Holiday Mixer – Lambda Omicron

The intent of the program was to bring chapter members together in fellowship with potential new members, as well as to participate in a fund raiser. Members shared their experiences in DKG and answered questions.

Laughter in Class – Beta Lambda

Members were invited to write a story of a humorous event that occurred while they were teaching. They presented the stories, which were later compiled into a booklet for publication

Tour the DKG Archives at TWU – Mu Epsilon

Members visited the DKG archives at TWU. The reference specialist gave suggestions to help members determine what should be archived and encouraged updating chapter histories.
